RESPONSIBILITY:

For those groups under 18 years of age, the Centre feels it is important that the Centre Staff and the group leaders know when they are responsible for the young people in their charge.

Visiting Group leaders are responsible for young people:

- Until the Centre Instructor begins the session (first interaction with the group)
- When the group has finished the session (the time in which the group is returned to the leader following an activity)
- During lunch times, unless on an activity day trip. i.e. Canoe expedition

The Centre Staff are responsible for the young people:

- From the beginning of the activity session (first interaction)
- Until the group has finished the session. (the time in which the group has been returned to the group leader following the activity)
- During Lunch periods – only when operating Offsite on an all day activity with the same group, Unless specific responsibility is taken by the leader or the leader is otherwise informed

This is in no way a clear and definitive explanation and both group leaders and instructors should give a clear “hand over” of responsibility to one another at the beginning and the end of each session.

WEATHER:

The Manager will decide in consultation with the instructors and the group leaders, if the weather or prevailing conditions are unsafe for an activity to proceed. In such cases an alternative activity will be offered. The Centre has numerous foul-weather activity options, and the location and water base means such problems are highly unlikely during the summer season. Weather conditions such as strong winds, lightening, or high water levels may well affect certain activities.

PERSONAL BELONGINGS:

The Centre has limited storage space and facilities for personal belongings. Groups and individuals should only bring with them the items they will use whilst at the Centre. Although the Centre has group storage facilities, the Centre will not be held responsible for personal belongings which may go missing. Therefore, valuable personal belongings MUST NOT be brought to the Centre and only bring what you or your group requires.

SMOKING:

The Centre is non-smoking establishment, inside and outside the buildings and when engaged in any activity, all persons are expected to comply.

UNSUITABILITY OF A PERSONS OR GROUP:

The Centre reserves the right to refuse a booking, or to ask a group or individual to leave the premises or activity session should the need arise. In such circumstances a refund may or may not be given and this is at the discretion of the Centre Manager.
